A New Quality Measure Abstracting Service

Improving the quality of care and reducing cost is critical in today's value and evidence-based healthcare environment. Key to achieving quality and cost metrics is the ability to obtain, evaluate and understand vast amounts of data so that it can be turned into actionable information.

Many quality and registry data elements are available through existing repositories. However, when critical data elements are missing, facilities often rely upon clinical or administrative staff to manually review medical records to abstract medical records.

NJHA Healthcare Business Solutions can help you overcome challenges related to data abstracting

- Free up valuable staff time for other quality projects
- Prevent backlogs that occur as abstracting often is a low priority

NJHA-HBS'S KEY DATA QUALITY ABSTRACTING SERVICE WILL DELIVER THE FOLLOWING:

- Knowledgeable health information professionals – experts in medical record navigation and data collection
- Project management to:
 - assess the quality measure or Registry requirements and develop an action plan;
 - assure qualified staffing to meet organizational deadlines; and
 - deliver consistency in data collection to safeguard data integrity
